

SHARING YOUR screenr SCREENCAST

1. Look at the bottom of the “Publish your screencast” screen – in the box that says “Describe your screencast,” you can enter a description that is up to 117 characters long.

Describe your screencast 57 characters left

This is just a random screencast for demonstration purposes.

Publish!

2. Click the “Publish!” button; you will now see screenr processing your video:

3. Your screencast is now published. How will you choose to share it? Notice the options along the right-hand side; you can share the video by sending out a link to it, or by embedding the video inside a webpage (such as your Blackboard course page), by downloading the video as a file, or publishing straight to YouTube:

ProfessorZahr
Random screencast

2011 Teaching and Learning Technology Conference
CHANGE

Play Share

0:00 / 0:07 screenr

SHARE THIS SCREENCAST

Social

Embed

URL <http://screenr.com/FCV>

MORE ACTIONS

SCREENR BOOKMARKLET

MORE SCREENCASTS
by ProfessorZahr

Screenr is a simple but powerful tool for providing tutorials and how-to videos for your students, with a wide variety of avenues for sharing – it’s so easy that anyone can use it. Try creating your own screencast with Screenr!